

SPERRY FLOUR
MILL INSPECTEDCompany Officials Look Over
New Plant Now Ready
For Operation

Officials of the Sperry Flour company inspected the new Ogden mill today preparatory to beginning operations. Although it was originally planned to start the flour mill operating today, it was decided to delay the start until Saturday morning. Representatives from various parts of the country have arrived here to inspect the plant, which when completed, will be one of the largest in the country owned by the Sperry Flour company.

J. D. Armstrong, manager of the North West mill, with headquarters at Tacoma and Manager J. K. Smith of the Spokane mill arrived here early today. C. B. Cross, chief chemist with headquarters at Vallejo, Cal., and W. A. Jewell, engineer, San Francisco, also arrived today to attend the opening ceremonies.

J. H. Henshall, of the Strong-Stout Manufacturing company, of Minneapolis, will arrive here tomorrow. Machinery was installed in the new mill by the Strong-Stout company.

The new mill when placed in operation will have a daily output of 2500 barrels. More than $75,000 barrels will be produced during the coming year. The formal opening of the new mill and elevator will be held January 5, 7, and 8. January 5 is Weber club day at the mill while the other three days will be given over to the general public. The entire workings of both the mill and the elevator will be explained to those who are interested in the new plant.

Public Health Nurse
To Talk to Clubs

Miss Sophie K. Larsen, public health nurse of Weber county, will deliver two lectures this week on subjects of the Christmas seal drive and tuberculosis. The first address will be given tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock before the members of the Child Culture club. Saturday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock she will talk before the Home Culture club members.

Milwaukee women use approximately 400 barrels of talcum powder each week.

HORSE SHIVERS
WHILE AUTO SNUG
UNDER THICK RUG

"A wonderful man is merciful to his beast," so ran an old proverb. Standing outside a certain church in this city last night was a horse and an automobile. The owner of the automobile evidently possessed a more tender heart than the owner of the horse. A thick rug was placed over the engine of the car while the horse was unprotected from the freezing temperature.

COLD SNAP HITS
OGDEN; 10 BELOW
AT CITY WELLS

Ogden shivered in the coldest night of the season last night, the mercury showing all previous early winter records in falling to 10 degrees below zero. This is eleven degrees below any point yet reached, the coldest previous night a week ago having been 17 degrees above zero.

A comparison with the same date last year, however, offered some consolation, for at that time the mercury fell to 7 degrees above zero and on December 16, the same point was reached. A general rise is shown for a few days after December 16, 1919.

Rising temperatures are due tomorrow, according to the weather bulletin which reached the city this morning, and clear skies are forecast.

Much damage was done last night to automobiles which were not drained of water and this morning service stations were crowded with cars with leaking radiators and frozen pumps. The sale of denatured alcohol jumped today when motorists rushed to protect their radiators against the cold temperatures.

Temperatures of 10 degrees below zero was reported at the city wells in Ogden canyon this morning.

City Sets Aside Hills
For Coasting Purposes

As a protective measure for children who coast on Twentieth street between Adams and Washington avenues, Mayor Frank Francis has closed this district to travel and motorists and truck drivers are requested to not pass through the street. Drivers are also urged to use caution in approaching the street in order that accidents might be avoided. For those who must pass through the street on business Mayor Francis has asked that they proceed slowly and watch carefully for the coasters.

Twenty-seventh street hill has also been set aside for coasting.

SHOULD BE LESS MUSIC.

The opera was a very good one. Nobody knew what it was about. The music was splendid, but rather too loud for conversation.

CompanyUtah Fraternalists
Meet Here on Friday

Delegates to the Utah Chapter of the National Fraternal Congress representing all the fraternal organizations in the state will meet Friday evening, Dec. 17, at 8 o'clock in the Woodman of the World hall.

Dr. J. C. Mansuet of Salt Lake, president of the Utah chapter will lead a large delegation of fraternalists, who have chartered a special train over the Denver and Rio Grande.

In addition to a full attendance of officers, it is expected that many fraternalists of the state will attend, including Harvey Cluff, attorney general of the state, Catherine Erickson, J. H. Quay, and H. M. Wolfe of Salt Lake, W. H. Miles of Murray. Legislative matter, important to both local and the organizations of near by states will likely be the foundation for most of the evening's address. A musical entertainment is to be arranged.

Harding Not to Visit
Utah, Asserts Smoot

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Senator Reed Smoot today declared there was no foundation of truth in the report that President-elect Harding is to visit Utah in the early summer or late fall of 1921. "There is a probability that congress will be in session throughout the summer and fall," he said, "and that will require Mr. Harding's presence in Washington."

Going to Washington today was to the effect that Yellowstone park, Zion national park and Grand Canyon were included in a tentative itinerary being mapped out for Mr. Harding during a proposed trip to the Pacific coast states and intermountain country some time next year.

School Art Posters
Will Be Exhibited

Art posters, made by students of the junior high schools of the city and students of the art department of the Ogden high school will be exhibited at the Public Library tomorrow. The posters are illustrations of the Tercenary of the "Land of the Pilgrims."

Prizes of $10 and $5 for the two best posters have been offered by the library board.

More than one hundred posters will be on exhibition. Judges of the contest will be named tomorrow and the decision rendered tomorrow evening. All posters have been made under the direction of Miss Carrie Knapp, art instructor of the city schools.

"THE NEW YORK IDEA"

She Wanted a Divorce—Quick!

"What grounds?" of course was a natural question for the Judge to ask. Cynthia Karshuke was stumped for a minute. And then she remembered that "John" had a habit of stewing his shaving things about her bodor in a very untidy manner. And so a divorce was easy—so easy that it wasn't any fun at all. Is divorce a failure? That question will arise in your mind when you see "THE NEW YORK IDEA"—a pungent satire on modern married life.
